

Some of us like to deal with small local businesses; you know, the kind our country was founded on; and we like to have a person always answer the phone, which we get with our local ISP. Please have the FCC continue to regulate broadband service, so the little guy can still compete with the big phone companies. Deny BellSouth's petition. The big phone companies need regulation now more than ever.